

Stony Brook University

The State University of New York

THE ENVIRONMENTAL HUMANITIES WORKING GROUP

PRESENTS

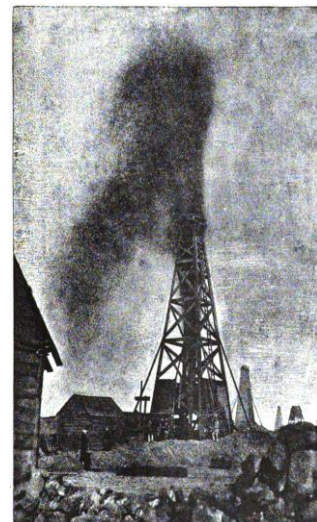

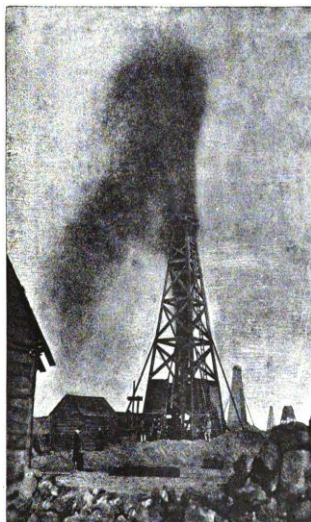

A SCHOLARLY SYMPOSIUM

FRIDAY, 31 MARCH AT 1:00 P.M.

THE POETRY CENTER (HUM 2001)

Join us for a trio of twenty-minute papers on topics including climate change, the Anthropocene, and energy studies to be followed by a Q & A session. Refreshments will be served.

- Greg Clinton (Cultural Studies): "Climate Control: Cleanrooms and the Production of Hypermodernity"
- Mark Pingree (Comparative Literature), "I Am the Anthropocene: A Microhistory of Geosubjectivity"
- Mike Tondre (English L & L), "Conrad's Carbon Imaginary: "Liquid Coal" in Victory

*Plates of an oil derrick and an oil tanker explosion from J.D. Henry, Thirty-Five Years of Oil Transport: The Evolution of the Steam Tanker (1907)