

Call for Programs!

April 21st, 2017

Please join us as Stony Brook University presents: our annual and award-winning celebration of Earth Day, scheduled this year for April 17-21, 2017. We invite students, faculty, staff, community members and organizations to submit program proposals to host an event!

Last year, Earthstock featured over 40 vibrant educational programs, over the course of 9 days, and involving over 50 collaborators and sponsors. We invite you to join us at the largest program of its kind in Long Island & New York State.

Please submit your program proposals to earthstock@stonybrook.edu
