

ELEGANCE IN MOTION: HANBOK TALK & MINI FASHION SHOW

1:00 PM – 2:20 PM, March 8 (Friday)
Theater, Wang Center

ABOUT THE EVENT

Join us for a compelling exploration of hanbok, Korea's traditional dress. This event will kick off with a short talk by Jeff Yang on his personal journey of embracing hanbok as everyday clothing while living in NYC. Following his insightful discussion, the event will feature a mini hanbok fashion show. Immerse yourself in the beauty and tradition of Korean hanbok, brought to life by Stony Brook students.

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Cheon-Shik Yang (Jeff Van Damme) is a Hanbok Designer based in New York City. As a Korean American Adoptee, Cheon-Shik explores and reclaims his Korean Identity through Hanbok, while living the “Hanbok Saengwhal Lifestyle” of making and wearing Hanbok daily. By blending Traditional designs and patterns with modern fabrics and inspirations, Cheon-Shik has created a unique viewpoint of Hanbok and its continual living evolutions.
